

Promotion and Placement of Students

The promotion of a student in SEC shall be based on the best interests of the student.

As far as it is practicable and possible, each student will be placed in the instructional program which allows the student to make progress at his/her rate of achievement in the major areas of Language Arts and Mathematics.

If a student is having difficulty meeting expectations and outcomes in Mathematics and English Language Arts, an intervention program must begin by identifying the problem and setting out a plan of action to remedy it. Intervention strategies vary and schools must structure learning environments to help students achieve expected learning outcomes.
