National Day for Truth and Reconciliation

On September 30 Southeast Collegiate observed the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation through a variety of activities. In the morning: the Smoke Trail drum group led students to engage in a drumming session and Elder Joan Winning came to share her truth and wisdom. After lunch students participated in a variety of engaging activities. Southeast Collegiate is also proud to announce that we have joined the Gord Downie and Chanie Wenjack host of schools!

Origami and Applause

The Grade 10 Essential Math class has been exploring proportions and rates through various challenges this month. They recorded data related to speed clapping, origami production, and sales in flyers to relate all of it to the concept of fractions, rates, and ratios.

Wabathee Linklater and Nolton Beardy enjoying the process of creating origami bears.

Christopher Harper and Javonne Harper took the origami challenge very seriously!

Darcy Harper and Cailey Stoneman compare their speed clapping to the current world record.

Angry Birds in Math

The grade 11 Applied Math Class explored graphs on Geogebra with Angry Birds. Their goal was to make an equation that would have the bird follow along the graph and fall through where their targets (the pigs) were. Students had fun, and got to see how different changes in the equation altered the graphs.

Jordan Flett using his linear equation to get the pig!

Deeroy McDougall showing off his graphs.

Visual Arts

The grade 10 Visual Arts students started the year exploring Graffiti Art and learning ways to tag their names. They then designed their own art folders by tagging their names on it. These art folders are for the students to put their art work in throughout the term and to later take home!

Precious Flett and Allana McKay kindly shared their designed art folders.

Shayla Disbrowe & Tania Bird with their beautiful tagged folders!

Medicine Wheel Reflections

Students in 'Current Topics in First Nations, Metis & Inuit Studies' explored the teaching of the Medicine Wheel and finding your healthy balance. They created their own personal medicine wheel visual boards, where they reflected on ways they can establish a healthy balance in the four sacred aspects of our whole being.

Kadance Keesic, Keirsten Watt, and Jasmine Monias sharing their medicine wheel posters.

Recreation

In September, recreation held volleyball and Connect4 tournaments. Other activities included: henna, ping pong, roasting marshmallows and hot dogs, making posters to cheer on the Volleyball teams and bubble soccer! Students had the opportunity to win many prizes!
